Negotiations on Waterway Project To Start at Once

Treaty to Be Framed by Canada and United States for Development of St. Lawrence Route—Verbal Exchange of Views to Be First Procedure

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP).—The St. Lawrence seaway proposal will be the subject of immediate negotiations between Canada and the United States towards the framing of a treaty for the development. In making this important announcement tonight, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, made the following statement:

"Negotiations between the Governments of the United States and Canada, looking to the framing of a treaty for the development of the St. Lawrence seaway will be enacted at once. The Canadian Government has expressed the opinion that in the initial stages of the negotiations progress would most definitely be assured by direct and verbal exchange of views between the two Governments, and President Hoover has agreed to this procedure."

A similar announcement was made simultaneously by President Hoover in Washington.

A HEARTENING NOTE
OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP).—Announcement by Premier Bennett tonight on the St. Lawrence waterways is viewed by political observers in the capital as an immense forward step in the development of the St. Lawrence valley. The statement of the Prime Minister strikes a heartening note. If the treaty to be negotiated between the two countries is acted upon, and ratified by the Canadian Parliament and the United States Congress and Senate in February or March, actual work on the project may be started early next summer.

A total expenditure of $500,000,000 approximately; development of 5,000,000 horsepower, providing Ontario and Quebec with cheaper power; employment for thousands of Canadian and United States workmen during a ten years' period of construction; lower transportation rates by a decrease in the cost of movement of grain from the head of the lakes to the coast by the avoidance of rehandling and elevator charges, giving in effect a bonus to wheat growers of the West; development of manufacturing industries and trade transforming the Upper St. Lawrence Valley into a great industrial area—all these are involved in the carrying out of the project.

FAST CHEAP POWER
From the development of the international section, Ontario will get approximately 1,000,000 horsepower at low cost from development of the national section, Quebec will similarly benefit.

The project will bring the sea to the back door of the Midwest country up to Fort William, with vessels enabled to go right to the head of the Great Lakes, load their grain, and carry the product of Western farmers to the markets of the world without rehandling and elevator charges. Toronto will be made an ocean port. Montreal will benefit from the increased traffic attracted to the St. Lawrence route.

PREMIER MAKES PRODUCTS PLEA

Urges British Columbia Citizens to Give Support to Home Industries

More factories will operate and more workers will be employed when the people of British Columbia are persuaded to spend normally and to spend on home manufactured products. This statement was made by Premier S. P. T. Tolmie this week, urging the people of British Columbia to do everything in their power to support the British Columbia Products Bureau in its present campaign to foster the sale of British Columbia goods.

"From a survey of the causes contributory to this problem of depression," he declared, "there emerges the fact that whatever else has been affected, the public's purchasing power remains unshaken. No matter what line of investigation one follows, one comes inevitably to the same conclusion, namely, that money is being allowed to lie idle instead of being permitted to flow through channels of productivity."

"Broadly speaking, our buying power has not been weakened, but it has been misdirected."

SCHOOL SYSTEM FINEST IN CANADA

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7.—British Columbia's school system is superior to those of other provinces, declared Prof. George M. Weir, head of department of education of University of British Columbia, in an address to Rotary Club members at their luncheon-meeting yesterday.

His subject was, "Which Province Has the Best School System?" and he quoted statistics as a result of an educational survey of the Dominion.

Educational boards in Eastern provinces believe they are the torch bearers in Canadian education, but most recent records tend to prove that their systems are suffering by comparison with those of the West, the speaker asserted. British Columbia's system, eliminating university tuition, is regarded as the finest in Canada, he said.

Bruening to Form New Ministry to Improve Position

German Cabinet Resigns—President Von Hindenburg Commissions Chancellor to Name Members Without Regard to Party Affiliations—New List of Emergency Decrees

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP).—Chancellor Heinrich Bruening got rid of his entire Cabinet today and immediately undertook the formation of a new Government that will rule Germany under a virtual dictatorship.

Resignations of the complete ministry were submitted by the Chancellor to Paul von Hindenburg, the nation's stern old warrior president, and Herr Bruening straightaway was commissioned to form a new cabinet whose members will be able to withstand Nationalist and National Socialist attacks when the Reichstag reconvenes next Tuesday.

With the ministerial shift came a long series of new emergency decrees, signed by the President, which gave the Government far-reaching powers in dealing with the nation's financial and economic burden and in thwarting the attempts of the opposition parties to tempt Germany toward Communism.

MAY BE RETAINED
The resignations followed by one day that of Foreign Minister Curtius, who withdrew in the face of attacks on his handling of the Austro-German customs pact. Bruening, Chancellor Bruening, it was held likely that the new ministry would retain the present Ministers of Finance, Defence, Agriculture, Labor and Posts.

The decrees cover such subjects as salaries in private industry, unemployment, debts of communes and states, agricultural relief, regulations for savings banks, extraordinary courts for tax shirkers and special powers for the police to quell subversive movements.

Gather Forces for General Election

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7 (CP).—"Firmly believing that a provincial general election is practically certain next month," the Conservative Party is speeding up the nomination of its candidates throughout Manitoba," says The Manitoba Free Press today.

According to the newspaper no fewer than twenty Conservatives already are in the field.

"Every riding in Manitoba will be contested by the Conservative Party," announced Dr. H. C. Hodgson, president of the Provincial Conservative Association.

EDISON GROWING RAPIDLY WEAKER

Mostly in Semi-Conscious State Now—Inquiries Come From All Over World

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 7 (AP).—Thomas A. Edison was described today by his physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, as mostly in a semi-conscious state, according to a report from which he would not emerge.

Dr. Howe said the snow-haired inventor was much weaker than he could not sit without support. He also reported Mr. Edison found it increasingly difficult to take fluids, a condition which, because of his complication of ailments, has given concern all week.

As Mr. Edison's strength failed, the number of inquiries about his condition increased. From all parts of the world messages of solicitude were received.

President Hoover, through Lawrence Richey, of the White House secretariat, telephoned the Edison home today, according to the latest findings of the physician.

Mr. Hoover and the aged inventor are personally acquainted.

DECLINES TO GO INTO BOX AND TESTIFY

Ronald C. C. Stewart, on Mutiny Charge, Makes Direct Appeal to Jury

DEFENCE WITNESSES REFUSE BIBLE OATH

Declining his right to go into the witness box in his own defence, followed by a direct appeal to the jury, and a statement by Crown counsel that he would not address the jury, the trial of Ronald C. C. Stewart in the Asaule Court here yesterday.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning Mr. Justice Murphy will make his charge to the jury, and the case is expected to reach them before the noon adjournment. The trial has been attended by scores of spectators and, when Mr. Stewart commenced his address to the jury, even standing room was a premium.

Conducting his own case, Mr. Stewart has attracted more than usual interest in the trial which, however, lacked sensational features.

Towards the close of the afternoon, A. M. Johnson, K.C., Crown counsel, announced he had three witnesses whom he did not propose to examine. If the jury were called, and most of them refused to take the oath on the Bible and were duly affirmed. Four of them testified that they had never seen the leaflet upon which the charge was based. They denied having seen them, either in the accused's possession or at the

Bank Plan May Help Dominion

TORONTO, Oct. 7 (CP).—President Hoover's plan to form a $500,000,000 corporation for the extension of credit was termed "a sound, constructive proposal" by Sir Thomas White, vice-president of the Bank of Commerce, in an interview with The Toronto Telegram today.

The proposal should benefit Canada, he held. "Any revival of the credit of a States should lead to demand for our products. Release of credit also should tend to make borrowing conditions in New York more favorable to Canadian Governments and municipalities, always provided," Sir Thomas warned, "that such Governments and municipalities show that they are trustworthy in their expenditures and taking active steps to present sound budgetary statements."

Start Murder Trial Before Jury Arrives

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7.—Hearing of a murder trial commenced without the presence of a jury at the assize court today.

When the trial of Shinkichi Sakurada, charged with the murder of a competitor, resumed in the afternoon, it was not until some moments later that officers discovered the jurymen's seats were unoccupied.

F. G. T. Lucas, K.C., prosecutor, who was addressing the bench, was immediately stopped while his lordship was notified of the circumstances.

"Well, bring them in. Did you think I had a jury in my pocket?" his lordship said.

Just then the sheriff marched in the belated jurors.

Empire Preference Is Plank in Platform of National Government

Australians Hope For Tariff Policy With Preferences

CANBERRA, Australia, Oct. 7 (CP, via Reuters).—The hope that the British elections on October 27 would result in the return of a government pledged to a tariff policy with Empire preferences was expressed today by Hon. Michael Forde, Minister of Trade and Customs in the Australian Labor Government.

"The prosperity of the Empire hinges on such a policy," Mr. Forde added. "I am confident it would effect rapid British commercial recovery."

LONDON, Oct. 7 (CP and AP).—"The Government must be free to consider every proposal likely to help, such as tariffs, expansion of exports and contraction of imports, commercial treaties, and mutual economic arrangements with the Dominions." This was the plea of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, who, following the disclosure of Parliament today, issued a manifesto urging support for the National Government at the polls on October 27.

"It must watch how the devaluation of money and economies which had to be made to balance the budget of the lives of our people, and take every step which can be made effective to protect them against exploitation. It must be made plain, however, that whilst everything possible will be done to meet hardship, the budget must not be allowed to slip into deficit."

MUST CO-OPERATE
"The possibility of home and imperial development in all its aspects must be studied. The Government is to be comprehensively national, not sectional, that is the obligation which it is to keep before it. In these days of transition and uncertainty we must all pull together, and by our co-operation now strive to put a new spirit of energy and hope into our people," Mr. MacDonald declared.

As the Commons concluded their task, Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, leaning on his stick, made his way painfully to the front Government bench. He had stood for several minutes behind the Speaker's chair, surveying the scene he knows so well, but which he will not see again. He made no attempt to enter into the Speaker's chair, but rather reading of the Supply Bill—the Commons' last act of business. Then the frail Chancellor of the Exchequer moved forward.

Then came the thrice-knocks of Black Rod, summoning the members to the Lords for the Speech from the Throne proroguing Parliament and the end.

James M. A. Le Marquand was arrested yesterday at the postoffice on a charge of unlawfully sending a letter through the mail demanding of John Roberts, Seattle, $5,000 with menacing threats.

Detectives Henry Jarvis and F. Woodburn made the arrest, which brought to an end some two weeks of investigation by the detective bureau.

ITALY IN FAVOR OF ARMAMENT REDUCTION

ROME, Oct. 7 (AP).—Dino Grandi, Foreign Minister, speaking Tuesday at a meeting of the Rome Rotary Club, where Lord Cecil of England also spoke, reiterated what he described as Italy's willingness to consider "any proposal, method or system" likely to lead to reduction of armaments.

He agreed with Lord Cecil that "fear and unrest" are the causes of the world's present trouble and that the real remedy is disarmament.

GOLD NOT THE VITAL FACTOR

Trade the Most Important Thing in International Finance, Says J. R. Scooby

Trade rather than gold is the important thing to a nation. Trade also is the important thing in international finance. "Show, slugs and gold" as she may sometimes seem, Britain is the only nation that really understands international finance.

This was one of the interesting highlights in the clever and thoughtful address on "Gold and the Gold Standard" given by J. R. Scooby before the well-attended meeting of the Women's Canadian Club on Tuesday afternoon at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Scooby covered the ramifications of a vast subject in an able review which dealt with the philosophical as well as the practical issues.

Several times in the course of his talk he adverted to the view that England stood first among the nations not only in her knowledge of finance, but in integrity and honor in her monetary dealings with other nations. "So much so that all the rest of Europe had based its valuations on the pound sterling." The difference between internal and external bond, the vital significance of the sterilization or sealing up of gold in bringing about the present situation; Canada's, the United States' and China's financial and monetary systems were discussed, but at no time did Mr. Scooby strike note of real pessimism as to the future.

GREAT ENCOURAGEMENT

"I see great encouragement and feel very satisfied regarding Empire trade. And where you have trade you have prosperity," he said at one point. "The United States was culpable to some extent for the present condition because of their sterilization of six billion dollars of gold by sealing it up and removing it from circulation. Terrific unemployment, terrific trade depression was the result. Their foreign trade this year had fallen off by five billion dollars."

Mr. Scooby showed how the flow of gold since 1914 had all been one way. But this condition was beginning to alter as the result of England's decision to go off the gold standard. The United States would now lose much of her Chinese trade and England would gain it, for the Chinese would trade where they could get the best value for their silver.

"England was not built up by her aristocracy nor by her bankers. She was built up by her little trader. It is he that makes your nation, not your international banker. The great god of gold ever demands sacrifices. The steps of the altar of gold are worn thin by the feet of disillusioned human multitudes, and the altar of gold is stained with the tears of humanity's lost hopes and disappointments. Gold can be a great blessing or it can be a terrible scourge to mankind," said the speaker in conclusion.

Mrs. Peter MacNaughton moved a very hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Scooby.

Miss Rena Grant spoke on her trip to England; Miss Margaret Swanson, her tour through France, and Miss Nora Holroyd on her trip to Germany.

MAY POSTPONE BOARD MEETING

Advisory Council of Farmers' Institutes Will Submit Resolutions

In view of the fact that no points of major issue remain to be decided, and that the loss of time involved would be a heavy drain on the members of the voluntary advisory board of the British Columbia Farmers' Institutes, the annual assembly of the council in Victoria this year may be postponed, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Building.

The meeting is held customarily in November, and is attended by delegates from the ten district institutes of the province. Instead, it is understood, resolutions advanced by the Farmers' Institutes, and all other matters requiring attention, will be forwarded through the board members to the Government, where they will receive detailed consideration. The assembly, where a membership of 6,500 farmers, distributed in 187 areas.

Action to postpone the meeting of the board for 1931 has been suggested by a number of the institutes, and will be followed by the Government, it is understood.

CHANGING OF SCHOOLS TOLD

J. M. Paterson Tells Round Table of Present Methods of Educational Work

"Education has changed so fast in the last twenty years that it has been difficult to trace it," said J. M. Paterson, inspector of schools in Saanich, during the course of an address entitled, "The Changing Schools," given at the Round Table Club meeting in the Empress Hotel on Tuesday night.

Mr. Paterson traced the development of education, showing how many new subjects and ideas have been introduced. It is now advancing much more rapidly than in years prior to 1900, he stated. "Men of today often say that the standard of matriculation examinations now is not up to the standard of what their entrance examinations used to be," said Mr. Paterson. This, he asserted, was incorrect, and if many of those who have this belief were put to the test, they would learn so.

TO "LEAD OUT"

The word "education" to my mind, means to "lead out." Teachers today are striving to lead their pupils out of their own narrow minds into civilization and its meaning.

Mr. Paterson pointed out that certain talents are given to everyone by the grace of God, and it is the duty of teachers to develop these talents in their pupils.

The speaker showed how the work of the teachers of today is not based on teaching the child to learn and reason. Mr. Paterson also told the members that in former times mathematics were not on the curricula of the schools, and that they were a fairly recent introduction. The entry of science into the school curricula was very recent, he said, and astonished many of the old teachers when it was introduced. Education of the early days was based more on languages than on more general subjects. This theory of teaching languages, which is termed formal discipline, has been exploded.

NOT EQUAL

The speaker then illustrated how students in a classroom are not of equal calibre as was the former belief, but some have greater ability to learn one subject more than another. As a result of this, students of today are divided into groups, with the result that each teacher has a homogeneous group, each student having about equal ability. This was because science had been able to diagnose students and prove their abilities in different subjects.

Mr. Paterson concluded by saying that the constant "fight" that for-

Unemployed Given Work By Branch

Positions have been found for a number of unemployed members by a committee recently formed for this purpose by the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion. It was announced at a meeting held in the club's headquarters. A representative of the committee stated that all work found so far had been permanent.

A very gratifying letter was read complimenting the pensions committee on its very successful work and expressing appreciation for the aid rendered to the writer. The low exchange on Imperial pension cheques was debated, but no acceptable solutions were offered. Billiard teams in the league were recorded and special attention was given to the fact that all players were ex-service men and active members of the branch. The Britannia Branch now stands third in number of paid-up members in the province, and a big effort is being made to improve this position before the end of the year.

NOTED TEACHER VISITING CITY

Rev. Brother Noonan, of Irish Christian Brothers' Order, Dublin, Inspects School Here

Rev. Brother Noonan, an outstanding Irish educationalist, superintendent-general of the well-known teaching order, the Irish Christian Brothers, arrived in the city Tuesday from Vancouver in the course of his quinquennial visitation of all the American schools of the order. One of the most noted teachers in an order which has an enviable reputation among educationalists the world over, Rev. Brother Noonan is himself the product of the mother school, the Irish Brothers' Training College, St. Mary's Marino, Dublin. He has held many important offices in Catholic schools and colleges, having been on the Senate of the Royal University of Ireland, at Cork, during the presidency of the renowned Dr. Bertram Windle. He is one of the leading mathematicians in the order today, and has written several textbooks on the subject which are in general use in the schools of the Irish Christian Brothers, as well as elsewhere. Keenly interested in sport, he directed cricket and Rugby at Prior Park College, Bath, England, of which he was principal for some years; and also at the Christian College, Cork.

On Tuesday he gave an informal address to the boys of St. Louis' College, and yesterday conducted formal examinations in the various subjects taught there. Owing to the limited time at his disposal and the strict schedule of visits to schools of the Order on this continent, he will be unable to remain here for the formal opening of the new college here, but has expressed his pleasure at finding such a handsome school to replace the old St. Louis' College building.

PACE IS TOO HOT FOR INTERPRETER

Withdraws From Court in Middle of Hearing of Japanese Being Tried for Murder

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7 (CP).—Dramatic withdrawal of a Japanese interpreter, who declared the "pace was getting too hot," featured the trial, which opened in Assize Court here Tuesday of Shinkichi Sakurada, Japanese, charged with the murder of a fellow countryman, Naakichi Watanabe, whose body was found near the railway tracks in the east end of the city on the night of March 29 last. Watanabe had been killed by blows from an axe. Withdrawal of the interpreter, H. Oda, came when the first witness for the Crown, Bushiro Fugino, was being cross-examined by C. G. Beaton, defence counsel.

"It is true," asked Mr. Beaton of the witness, "that an information was also laid charging you with this murder?" Oda wiped his forehead with a handkerchief and said, "This is getting too hot. I'm quitting." He then started to leave the courtroom. He was stopped and returned to his post but, when questioned by Mr. Justice Gregory, was unable to give a coherent answer.

Oda was allowed to leave and another Japanese, Juson Tennings, was sworn in as interpreter.

To-day Dixie's Heritage is Canada's Favourite Coffee

"GOOD to the LAST DROP"

An outstanding example of Southern hospitality is the Maxwell House in Nashville, Tennessee. Not only did this distinguished old inn become famous for its food, but also for a wonderfully rich and mellow coffee originated by a Southern gentleman with a genius for flavour.

A coffee so good that those who tasted it once never forgot it. Instantly it became Dixie's favourite. In these later days more people choose Maxwell House as their favourite coffee.

Canada Quick To Recognize Its Superiority
When the news of this distinctive coffee spread, Canada lost no time in deciding on its merits. Today Maxwell House is the country's favourite, roasted and packed in a great Canadian plant. Vacuum packed in tins ensures that you get it always fresh—just as if you had just ground it yourself. Ask your grocer for Maxwell House in the blue tin.

Always Fresh
There is no such thing as a coffee fresher than Maxwell House. It is always packed in a vacuum tin which protects its rare, fragrant flavour. The lid sits tight so that it keeps better after you open it.

In 1 lb. and 3/4 lb. tins

THE ADVERSE TRADE BALANCE

Sir John Simon, who has pledged his support to the National Government in the election campaign which opened in Britain yesterday, has recently been converted from free trade to protection. He explains the reason for his change of heart by pointing out that until very recently in Britain the gap between the visible exports and visible imports was made up by using the earned invisible exports of each year without trenching upon the interest on foreign investments. The understanding was that so long as this happened the nation was paying its way. Recently, however, a change came about. To fill the gap between visible exports and visible imports, it became no longer possible to disregard the interest on foreign investments. The country was brought to a position where it had to draw upon that element of its income "over and above the earnings made for banking, insurance, shipping and other services abroad."

As long ago as 1913, to meet the adverse visible trade balance, the amount drawn upon the interest on foreign investments was $145,000,000. That was only one-sixth of the income derived from foreign investments. By 1928, however, when the adverse trade balance had been met, there was only half of the income from foreign investments available for reinvestment. Two years later the adverse balance on trade was nearly $2,000,000,000, which absorbed five-sixths of the income from foreign investments. Sir John Simon has visualized the prospects for the present year as even more serious still, and has realized the necessity for drastic fiscal action. The process which has been going on must be stopped. The seriousness of the situation is emphasized by the fact that there is a great reduction in the value of foreign investments. What in 1930 produced £235,000,000 in income was expected to produce only £165,000,000 for the present year. In Sir John Simon's opinion, if the situation continues, Britain is not going to be able to make both ends meet. In other words, national credit would disappear.

Because of the foregoing conditions creating a situation profoundly disquieting, Sir John and thousands of others have changed their attitude regarding free trade. There is an overwhelming public opinion in Britain now believing that the country must adopt a protective tariff, not only to buttress its own industries, but so as to provide a medium for preferential trade arrangements within the Empire. The main hope of fiscal restoration lies in the tariff. The National Government is asking for a doctor's mandate—to do what is necessary to restore Britain's fiscal well being. It wants the people's authority to diagnose the causes of shaken credit and to apply the necessary fiscal remedies.

THE GOLD STANDARD PROBLEM

The Magazine of Wall Street thus summarizes Britain's suspension of the gold standard. In the first place, it says, it means a reduction in the debt burden. Secondly, it betokens a virtual reduction in wages, pensions, salaries and the dole. Thirdly, it will curtail British imports and may expand British exports. For the time being it means the loss of Britain's financial supremacy in favor of Paris and New York. There is a possibility, however, that it will result, if only temporarily, in the overthrow of the gold standard in other countries. The suspension benefits South America and other sterling debtors. It means a further loss of wealth and purchasing power by India.

The Scandinavian countries have already followed Britain's example in suspending the gold standard. The next nation likely to do the same is Japan. Others that may follow before long are Italy and Denmark, and the trend of affairs may force Germany to the same conclusion. The two nations which are the bulwark of the gold standard at present are the United States and France, because of their large gold hoardings. The assumption is they will cling to gold.

It is noted by The Magazine of Wall Street that while technically Britain was on the gold standard, the United States is on the straight gold coin standard. That Journal further notes that while the United States and France have cornered two-thirds of the world's monetary gold they have far less than two-thirds of the world's wealth or its business turnover. Then The Magazine goes on to say:

"History conclusively demonstrates that the most disastrous, as well as the most beneficial changes in price levels have been due in reality to changes in the quantity of available gold. When Alexander sacked the golden treasures and adornments of the temples of Asia he caused a rise in prices and a long-continued boom throughout the Empire. The discovery of America and the flood of gold and silver it turned into Europe brought on a period of rising prices that lasted for centuries. When the forty-niners panned the golden sands of California they hoisted prices of the world. When the Rand mines of South Africa were opened up on a large scale toward the end of last century the ensuing abundance of gold caused another period of increasing prices, simple because the ratio between gold and goods had been changed. Between 1896 and 1920 gold was so abundant in relation to goods and labor that prices and wages increased rapidly.

"Since then the supplies of both goods and labor have steadily increased, while the world's volume of gold has not only remained almost stationary but has been concentrated where it cannot be fully utilized, and prices have declined. These circumstances have not only disturbed internal business conditions in nearly every country, but have a direct bearing on foreign trade, on reparations and on the inter-allied debts.

"Unless something like a financial revolution impends, the gold standard will be as slow as superstition to depart, but it is inconceivable that the economically sophisticated modern world will much longer measure its wealth, and contract and pay debts, according to a unit of measure that has itself decreased as much as 70 per cent in one period of twenty-four years, has increased as much as 56 per cent in the recent period of 1920-1928, and 25 per cent more in the last two years. The gold standard must be a stable standard if it is to stand."

AN UNCONSIDERED OPPORTUNITY

According to Mr. George Simpson, editor of Official Debates of the House of Commons, it is becoming increasingly more difficult to secure reporters with the useful experience to handle parliamentary debates and other official business connected with the working of both Houses, and he suggests that young Canadians should train themselves for Parliamentary reporting. Mr. Simpson states that newspaper experience, coupled with genuine shorthand ability, make the ideal combination. Mr. Simpson might have added the necessity of a thorough grasp of the principles underlying condensation, that is to say, ability to make accurate and speedy digests of oratorical efforts when legislators indulge in unnecessary verbiage. In fact, every parliamentary reporter must learn to convert his record of extemporaneous speaking, with its inevitable redundancies, transpositions and verbal imperfections, into terms appropriate to a written record, preserving the speaker's style, and, as far as possible, the exact phrasing, though not the phraseology of the speaker.

Mr. Simpson dispels the current belief that the unabridged versions of parliamentary debates are exact records of the speeches delivered in either the House of Commons or the Senate, asserting that comparatively few speeches delivered in Parliament, however agreeable to the ear or clear to the understanding, can bear literal transcription. In fact, according to The Regina Herald, one of the cruelest pranks that a reporter can play upon a public speaker who disputes his report, is to print an exact verbatim record of the speech as it actually was given.

The profession of a parliamentary reporter is an honorable one and fairly well paid, but the majority of newspapermen appear to prefer the smell of printers' ink and the excitement of making up a paper each day to the tedious of listening to parliamentarians and dressing up their speeches into readable English. Many folk will sympathize with the average newspaperman in his predilection, for all the world hates a bore. However, it seems to be established that somebody must handle and trim down for public consumption legislative verbosity, and it is just here that Mr. Simpson indicates an avenue of usefulness which apparently is not overworked.

A New York professor, Mr. Charles Gray Shaw, says that "no great or successful man ever whistles." His estimates of greatness and success must be somewhat peculiar, because among those who are known to have whistled through life are included such men as Lord Tennyson, Lord Balfour, Lord Beaconsfield, Sir Arthur Sullivan, Mr. W. S. Gilbert, Sir Herbert Tree and Mr. T. P. O'Connor. Coming up to date, Signor Mussolini is well known as one who whistles. There are scores of others in a leading way of life who whistle, and it is fairly evident that the New York professor is merely seeking some notoriety by a gratuitous and wholly unfounded assumption.

Decreasing Federal revenues have led to the decision that for the present fiscal year the $750,000 grant to the Provinces in aid of technical education will not be paid. Ottawa is retrenching in a variety of ways and such action is eminently desirable because of the grants being made for unemployment relief.

ALWAYS, ALWAYS

Always, always, it will be thus: the sun unfolded like a blinding marigold. The bright noon's fiery embers steadily done. And twilight scattering shadows blue and cold. April upon the bough and all too brief. The ripened fruit and leaves that bleed and burn. Young lovers with their passions and their grief. Age hoarding dreams like petals in an urn. Always, always, it has been thus since Time Unloosed the emerald rhythms of the sea. Since first the white-winged moon began to cline. The purple night. Beloved, and what are we? But less than the dark quiver of a flower. We with our little words, our little hour? —Daniel Whitehead Hickey, in Scribners.

CITY TREASURE

A square of sunlight creeps upon my wall. At the high march of noon. Like magic gold it spends itself with joy. Then vanishes—too soon. Yet to my heart a lovelier treasure brings Than all the wealth of all earth's queens and kings —Baldwin Grosman, in The Christian Science Monitor.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Every man is the architect of his own fortune.—Ballast.

In the old days when the minds of the people were shrouded in gross darkness and the gods of the people were angry, it was the custom to offer sacrifices in the forlorn hope that the acrid smell of burning flesh would propitiate the wrath of the deities. The innocent and helpless victims of this theological system were usually four-footed animals, such as goats or sheep; but sometimes when the sacrifices and incantations "did not work," human beings were seized and laid upon the altars as "burnt offerings." Hence, probably, the origin of the modern phrase, "being made a goat of." Although the people of the world today are at least moderately enlightened compared with their forefathers, when anything goes wrong and the "system" develops weaknesses, it is still the custom to go into a thick and look for a goat.

The business affairs of the world today are sadly out of joint, and a goat must be found to charge with responsibility for all our troubles, as a matter of fact all the troubles of the world are the natural consequences of the conduct of the people of the world. We have all sinned—some of us may be greater sinners than others of us—but we all have done many things we ought not to have done and left undone many things we ought to have done. Some authorities tell us that our present tribulations are due to some mysterious abstraction which they call the "system." Hence, those people argue that if the system of which they disapprove were abolished and a system of which they approve were set up, Utopia would be established and we should all "live happily forever after."

Mr. Bernard Shaw is the god of the ideal system and Mr. H. G. Wells is his prophet. The temple of the false god is, of course, the Fabian Club, situated somewhere in ancient London Town.

There has been a great deal of idle speculation as to what is the matter with Canada, but the only oracles who are quite sure about what is the matter with Canada are the Liberal newspapers, beginning with the inebriated Toronto Star in the East, halting for a moment over the cock-sure Manitoba Free Press in the middle, and ending with the last-hard disciple of the Cobden Free Trade School of economic thought, The Victoria Times, in the Last West. Those steadfast defenders of the faith delivered to the political fathers all know what is the matter with Canada and why Canada, as distinguished from all the nations of the earth, should have been exempt from the business tribulations of the times. They tell us every day that what is wrong with Canada is the Canadian Government, and quote statistics by the yard to prove it. They assert dogmatically every morning and evening that the only hope for Canada is to turn out a protectionist government and to put in a free trade government, to expose all the natural and created industries of Canada to the competition of foreign manufacturers, agriculturists and traders, and the devil take the consequences. Thus we should have Canada standing defiantly and triumphantly as a burning and a shining light of free trade in a world of nations committed to the principles of protection.

There have been many inquiries of late about what is the matter with the Canadian dollar, which, in the good company of the pound sterling, has fallen in value in the money markets of the United States. There is nothing really the matter with the Canadian dollar. The Canadian dollar stands where it stood before, a standard of values which cannot be assailed in the place where it belongs whatever estimate may be placed upon its values by the money changers, money manipulators and grabbing merchants of the United States. But the Liberal newspapers say there is something wrong with the Canadian dollar, and that the matter which is wrong with it is the Canadian Government.

Depreciation of the value of the Canadian dollar by the money changers and traders of the United States can inflict no permanent harm upon Canada. If the merchants of the United States do not want to do business with the people of Canada except upon terms which they choose to dictate (without rhyme or reason, that is their business, and should be a good thing for the business of Canada.)

It should not be a bad thing; it should be a wholly good thing, to keep the Canadian dollar and the Canadian business at home where they belong and where they will do the most good. The attitude of the people of the United States emphasizes the necessity for protection in business and will help the movement which has been begun in British Columbia to patronize home industries, to buy home products and keep the natural business and the money of the province within the province. Basing our opinion upon the number of banks which have failed lately in the United States compared with no failures at all in the banks of Canada, the security at the back of the Canadian dollar is vastly greater than the security at the back of the United States dollar. So there is nothing intrinsically wrong with the Canadian dollar, and no goat need be offered up as a sacrifice for its salvation. If we have patience the business of Canada will soon be established as firmly as the value of the Canadian dollar. Every nation is the architect of its own fortune.

VALUE OF HOME PRODUCTS

Sir,—Going that it is to be Home Product Week, I would like to point out just what happens when a home product is bought in preference to an imported article from a foreign country.

Taking furniture, for instance, as that is what I am most conversant with, we will consider the case of a piece of furniture made in Victoria to sell at $25. This $25 will be distributed in Victoria as follows: Wood, $5; stain and polish, $1; hardware, $1; wages, $13.

Overhead: Rent, light, water, fuel, business licence, advertising, workmen's compensation insurance, $2; Government sales tax, $1; profit, $2; total, $25.

The money paid in materials also will be distributed by the local firms in wages, etc., also the overhead expenses, in part, will be distributed about the city.

Now consider the imported article; the cost of production, consisting of the same items, will all be paid to the foreign country and the purchaser will also have to pay extra for duty, freight, etc.

In buying the home product you receive full value for your money. Incidentally you help the prosperity of your own country, whereas in buying an imported article, you can see that with the lower value of the dollar, and freight and duty to be paid, you are not receiving $25 in value of the article.

This reasoning must apply to the purchasing of all home products.

H. L. JOHNSON,
1025 Fort Street, Victoria, B.C., October 5, 1931.

SWEETPAKE TICKET

FORGEMEN.

Sir,—Attention has been recently called to several imitations of Irish Hospitals Sweepstake tickets which are at present circulating in the United States of America. Some of these are rubbishy imitations, but others are quite clever, even to being reproduced on paper embodying the forgery of the official watermark. However, as naturally, these forged tickets emanate from criminal circles, the means of circulation which the forgers are compelled to adopt are such as to make intending subscribers view with very grave suspicion the credentials of the persons offering for sale these bogus tickets.

As a consequence of the publicity given to this matter, hundreds of the people who desire to subscribe to the Irish Sweepstake and who have been given bogus tickets are now unwilling to hand their money to dubious characters or to send subscriptions to dubious financial institutions. They are, therefore, taking the course of sending the same counterfoils with the subscription direct to the sweepstake organizers through friends or business connections resident in the Irish Free State. The forgers are thus unwittingly aiding the honesty of the sweep by paying the cost of ticket circulation, and are being left high and dry for profit owing to their selling returning empty-handed from their collecting rounds.

The sweep directors have decided that persons whose subscriptions are returned by counterfeiters, even though accompanied by counterfeit tickets, are clearly entitled to participate in the draw. These bogus counterfoils when detected at headquarters are cancelled, and the ones are substituted and a notification issued to the subscribers concerned.

JOSEPH MCGRATH,
Director Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes.

13 Earlsfort Terrace, Dublin, C. 19, Irish Free State, Sept. 18, 1931.

VICTORIA AND GRAND OPERA

Sir,—A short time ago an excellent editorial appeared in The Colonist on the subject of movies, and the character of some of the shows being offered to the Victoria public. Regret was expressed in the editorial that grand opera was so rarely heard these days.

Last Saturday evening two of the world's most outstanding singers in grand opera, Dimitri Onofrei and Bianca Garaya, gave a performance, scenes from "Faust," "Carmen" and "Manon," with stage scenery, appurtenances and costumes, direct from the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company, after the fullest press and public notices, to an audience of one hundred and forty people.

Only a few citizens seemed to appreciate just what was being offered. In other words, a local show, by people well known, even to a small circle, is more likely to receive popular support than a visit by such outstanding personalities in grand opera as those who appeared in Victoria last week.

If a conclusion is to be drawn from the very tardy support given to such meritorious performances by the citizens of Victoria, it is that: first, the majority of our citizens are not interested in high-class music or grand opera; second, that those who claim to have some musical taste are satisfied with local talent; third, that Victorians are divided into too many groups musically and socially to give honest support to musical art. And, Mr. Editor, if the latter solve themselves, or amalgamate, be true, the sooner the groups disintegrate the better it will be for the city of Saiburg, from which would graduate artists, masters, teachers. Such an academy would attract to Victoria thousands of potential citizens. A music auditorium in connection with such a scheme, which should be endowed by some worthy citizen, would place Victoria in the forefront as a centre of art and culture.

To those whose ears have become dull, their minds and souls unresponsive to sweet sounds, by reason of the never-ceasing strain of "canned" music of radio or "speakers" we would recall the words of Shakespeare in his "Merchant of Venice":

"The man that hath no music in his soul,
Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds,
Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils;
The motions of his spirit are dull as night,
And his affections dark as Erebus:
Let no such man be trusted."

MOTORIST TO STAND TRIAL

Vernon A. Edgelow Is Committed to Higher Court on Manslaughter Charge

Vernon A. Edgelow, 1007 Collinson Street, charged with manslaughter following the death of Thomas Watson, who was fatally injured when struck by an automobile allegedly driven by him, was committed to the higher court on August 31, at the intersection of Government and Superior Streets, was committed to trial by Police Magistrate George Jay, following his preliminary hearing at the city police court yesterday morning.

W. T. Straith, of Clearview and Straith, conducted the case for the defence, and C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, was in charge of the prosecution. Cyril Jones, of the city engineer's department, identified a plan of the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Alice Watson, widow, identified the bicycle used by her husband, and stated he left his home at 5:20 o'clock to go to his work at the postoffice. Dr. A. C. Sinclair gave evidence of the nature of the injuries sustained by Mr. Watson, and Patrol Driver Sydney Wilkinson identified a bumper taken from the accused's car. The accident report made out by Mr. Edgelow was presented to the court by Sgt. Thomas Hall. The report stated that the accused was traveling north and Mr. Watson west at the time of the accident, and that Mr. Watson rode in front of the automobile.

SAW MR. WATSON FALL
Bernard F. Baldwin, 427 Powell Street, said he was standing on the northwest corner of the intersection. He said he saw Mr. Edgelow's car before the impact and it appeared to be traveling about twenty-five miles an hour. He did not see the collision but heard the noise and, turning, saw Mr. Watson fall to the pavement, the auto continuing about 145 to 150 feet.

Arthur Johnson, 1521 Bank Street, saw the accident from a window in the Government printing office and saw Mr. Watson fall. He could not say accurately how fast the auto was traveling. George Dyke, Jr., 40 Olympia Avenue, testified he saw both the auto and the cyclist but did not see the impact. He said the roadway was in a slippery condition at the time. Cellan John

Monotony of Baker's Cake Is Discussed

Is Discussed

MONTREAL, Oct. 7 (CP).—The criticism that all bakers' cakes taste alike was discussed by several delegates at the convention of the Baker and Cakes Bakers' Association here.

Several reasons for the complaint were advanced, one baker attributing the monotony of flavor to the fact that the trade used too much vanilla essence, killing the taste of the eggs and butter in the cake. Another felt that the fault lay in the practice of tasting the cake before it was iced and then tasting the icing before it was put on the cake. Cake and icing should be tasted together in the bakery to get the combined effect. Yet another put forward the explanation that flavorings were often poured in carelessly without accurate measurement.

Bakers only supplied 8 to 10 per cent of the cake consumed by the community, declared a delegate.

AMBASSADOR IS CRITICIZED

Transpacific Flyer Feels That Minister Lacked Aggressiveness

WENATCHEE, Wash., Oct. 7 (AP).—Clyde Pangborn, Jr., successful transpacific flyer, last night criticized Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes for failure to aid him and Hugh Herndon in their difficulties with Japanese authorities over the taking of pictures of Japanese fortified areas. The criticism was made at a banquet and arose during his discussion of "red tape," which he developed following their arrest after arriving in Japan.

"If our Ambassador hadn't been playing so much golf or something like that," he said, "we would have gotten off without further trouble. The Ambassador did nothing. The roll of red tape kept growing."

The banquet, attended by 300 people, was also addressed briefly by Herndon.

RAILWAY MAN IS PROMOTED

A. H. Hebb, Great Northern Representative, Goes to Vancouver

While the many friends of A. H. Hebb, local representative of the Great Northern Railway in Victoria for a number of years past, will regret to hear that he is shortly severing his business relations with the city, they will undoubtedly rejoice at the same time, appreciating the promotion which takes him away is merited, and a tangible recognition of the faithful service he has always rendered to his company and, incidentally, the traveling public.

On October 16, Mr. Hebb will enter upon new duties as general agent of the Great Northern Railway at Vancouver, where he succeeds Edward A. Dye, who goes to Seattle as assistant general freight agent.

A native of the Maritime Provinces, Mr. Hebb's railway and steamship service has extended over a considerable period, being identified with the local office of the railway company the greater part of the time. He arrived in Victoria prior to the start of the Great War, was transferred to Tacoma while it was in progress, later going to the port office at Vancouver, and returning here in March, 1929, where he has remained ever since.

CITY AGENT ATTENDS MAGAZINE COMPANY'S CONVENTION IN EAST

The Macfadden Magazine Company of Canada, newly-formed subsidiary of the Macfadden Publications, Inc. of New York, recently convened at Toronto for the purpose of discussing the policy of the new organization. The convention was attended by members of the Canadian Wholesale News Dealers' Association, H. Lovick, of Victoria, being among those present. Other members from Vancouver and New Westminster gave assurance that the Western province was well represented.

"In addressing the convention, E. E. Zoly, sales manager of the company, announced that six magazines of the Macfadden Publications will be printed in Canada, namely, True Romance, True Detective, True Experience, Master Detective and Dream World, in Montreal. The covers will be lithographed in New York, but the remainder of the work will be done in Canada, entailing a total expenditure within the Dominion of $600,000, exclusive of advertising and promotion costs. Though the new tariff has been the final deciding factor in this move, yet it has been a step long contemplated by Macfadden Publications, Inc. in recognition of the large turnover they have in Canada.

Following the meeting of the company, the Canadian Wholesale News Dealers' Association held a meeting with the object of discussing the tariff.

BIG EATERS GET ACID STOMACH

Take Marmesin to Neutralize the Acid and Keep Stomach Clean and Digestion Perfect

If you're a heavy eater; if you must have three big meals a day, eat them. But after each meal you should neutralize the dangerous acids that your food forms in the stomach, says a noted authority.

When your stomach is overloaded, the food practically paralyzes the stomach's activity long before the work of digestion is completed. Then the stomach becomes weak and "cranky," and you are a really sufferer from indigestion, gas, nervous, bloating and after-dinner pains. Your appetite goes—your're sick and whither what used to be the joys of a hearty meal become a menacing nightmare.

To quickly neutralize this dangerous acid, to cleanse and sweeten the stomach, to help the stomach take care of a heavy meal without pain or distress, so to your nearest drug store and get a little Marmesin (Marmesin is a powder or tablet) and take it in a little hot water just after meals. You'll be surprised how nicely this pleasant treatment works.

Marmesin Marmesin, which can be found in all good drug stores, is a chemist's product, pure and unadulterated. A powerful antacid and stomachic corrective. It is simple, harmless, inexpensive and quickly effective treatment used by thousands of folks every day.

Facts Concerning the World's Best Tonic Food Beverage

YOUR health is too important for you to take risks by drinking any haphazard mixture of food ingredients. You want a food beverage which will be perfect and complete, and which you can rely upon to give health and strength.

The Essential Food Elements

A perfect food beverage must contain proteins, fats, carbohydrates, mineral salts and vitamins. Scientists claim that these vital elements are contained most abundantly in malt, milk and eggs. That is why these wonderful foods of Nature form the constituents of "Ovaltine". Malt extract is used, for powdered malt does not yield the same food value or exert the same digestive power. Pure fresh milk is used. Dried milk is not good enough for "Ovaltine". The eggs are obtained from specially selected sources. 12,500,000 fresh eggs are used each year.

Proteins are obtained from all three ingredients. There are several proteins—all of which are necessary. Milk does not give them all, but a combination of malt, milk and eggs, as in "Ovaltine", supplies them. Fats are contained in the milk and eggs. Carbohydrates are present in the malt and milk. These are natural sugars and are far superior to cane sugar.

Mineral salts—iron, calcium and phosphorus—are derived from the milk and eggs. No nerve-restoring food would be complete without lecithin, which is derived from egg-yolk—hence the importance of fresh eggs in "Ovaltine". Vitamins—owing to the combination of malt, milk and eggs—are all contained in "Ovaltine" and are present in correct ratio.

Correctly Balanced Nourishment
Not only must a perfect food beverage contain all these elements but they must be supplied in correct proportions and in the most readily assimilable form, as in "Ovaltine". It is easily digested because it contains no starch or added sugar. It is flavoured with cocoa—not chocolate. It is emphasized that it nourishes the system normally without causing "fatness".

Avoid So-Called Substitutes
Your common sense will tell you that ordinary malt or cocoa drinks, without real scientific preparation, cannot possibly compare with "Ovaltine". You should make these enquiries. Are they made from malt extract as in "Ovaltine" or powdered malt? Is the milk fresh milk as in "Ovaltine" or dried milk? If they contain eggs are these new laid as in "Ovaltine" or merely dried eggs? Consider carefully if these substitutes are sweet in flavour, whether you are not paying an enormous price for sugar, which if necessary you can add yourself. "Ovaltine" contains no added sugar, but only the natural sugars contained in two of the ingredients—malt and milk.

Economical in Use
"Ovaltine"—although so superior in food value—is low in price and the most economical in use of all forms of concentrated nourishment. Make delicious "Ovaltine" your daily beverage—it is acknowledged to be the best means of giving and maintaining health, strength and vitality.

"Ovaltine" is sold at all stores in air-tight tins, at 50c, 75c, $1.25 and $4.50 (special family size).

Women Entitled To Equal Relief

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7 (CP).—Work would be provided for women as well as men, female wage earners in a family are entitled to relief from the head of the household, and when a woman becomes the head of the family she should receive the same consideration regarding work, wages and relief as men in the same category. This was the belief of the Local Council of Women, expressed in a resolution at Monday's meeting in the Women's Building, and the council intends, through its executive and several affiliated societies, to offer its co-operation in any suitable scheme initiated by the authorities, to relieve the present unemployment situation among women. It was also made plain that women who had not been able to register for unemployment during the period of a strike, might do so through a letter from a previous employer.

WOULD OPERATE INDUSTRY HERE

W. S. Tull Makes Application to Build Granary and Wheat Mill

Application of W. S. Tull, to build a frame storage structure, valued at $3,000, in a residential section of Saanich, on Wascana Street, is now receiving serious consideration by the Saanich Council, following the appearance of Mr. Tull before the board at its meeting last night.

Mr. Tull told the council of his plans to build the structure and install machinery, after which it will be used as a granary and mill for grinding wheat to produce flour, poultry in the district. Mr. Tull, who comes from the Prairies, stated that he would import wheat from the Prairies and make all preparations for feeding purposes in his mill.

Mr. Tull asserted that the erection of such a building, and the installation of machinery, together with the labor required to operate it, would give employment to a number of men in Saanich, as well as establish an industry in the municipality, which at present, he said, was lacking.

Noises from the machinery, he said, would be very little, it being possible to extend the exhaust pipe into the ground.

It was decided that Reeve William Crouch and R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, would interview Mr. Tull and endeavor to arrive at some arrangements whereby they might change a municipal lot, better situated for the purpose, than the lot already purchased by Mr. Tull, where he would receive the full co-operation of the council in putting the plan to practice.

ARTISTS GIVEN BIG RECEPTION

Overflow Audience Accords Ovation to Mme. Huntly Green and Gideon Hicks

Two enormous favorites with local audiences were accorded a clamorously enthusiastic reception last evening at the Shrine Auditorium when Mme. Gertrude Huntly Green, Canada's premier pianist, and Gideon Hicks, a greatly-liked baritone, opened the Victoria Musical Art Society's season with a joint recital. The only regret is that scores had to be turned away because the seating accommodation was quite inadequate.

Musical vocabularies might be exhausted without doing full justice to such artists as Mme. Huntly Green, whose playing has a peculiarly appealing quality all its own. The most faultless and polished performance of the evening, the most refined distinctions of nuance and sensitive shades of expression, are coupled with a reserve of magnificent pulse, masterly of dynamic force where needed, and a chiaroscuro which has few equals among women pianists. With this there is a similarly graceful yet vital individuality which would almost certainly betray the player, even if she could not be seen.

Wonderful Ovation
Deafening applause heralded her first appearance last evening. As the recital advanced, the front of the platform assumed the appearance of a flower garden with the tributes showered upon her and the accomplished, young accompanist Miss Beatrice Hicks.

Mr. Hicks' share of the programme was significant. He comes back, after a rather long absence, with undiminished powers, and his splendidly resonant tone and impressive sincerity of interpretation has never been better displayed than in the great oratorio aria from "Elijah." "I Am Enough," with which, magnificently accompanied at the piano by Mme. Green, the programme was brought to an end. As she sings with authority, dignity, beauty of diction and splendid breadth of phrasing. He, too, commands a great dynamic tone, and all his work has the stamp of complete artistry.

There was a spontaneous and inevitable quality in Mme. Green's work. A profound versatility with the classics was shown in the composers played. Beethoven's magnificently eloquent sonata, Opus 31, No. 2, was her first number. It showed her complete mastery of the subject matter, a lovely sense of melodic line, brilliance of execution, and capacity to draw enormous tone. Her encore to this was a vividly animated Schumann's "Sonata." In her next group were a Bach "Chorale," played with unemotional clarity and precision; the Busoni arrangement of the "Benedictus" from the "Mass," played with a joyous heart, and a Schumann "Nocturne."

CHOPIN GROUP

The Chopin group revealed her gorgeous chiaroscuro, including the Nocturne in G Minor, the fiery and rhythmic D Flat waltz, the dazling Etude op. 25, No. 3, and the vivid, leaping Etude No. 8. Her encore to this group was the poignant "Butterfly Etude." Her last number, Strauss' "Artist's Life," had almost orchestral dimensions.

Mr. Hicks also stressed the classical in his choice of numbers. Pergolesi's "Ave Maria" and Beethoven's "Pensiveness," which had great resonant tone and majesty of feeling. Schumann's "I Will Not Grieve" and Schubert's "My Lone Abode" were outstanding in the next group. The Arensky numbers were both beautifully sung, and a fervent impulsive characterised the Strauss "Money." A group of English composers included the fine old May Day Carol by Deems Taylor, exquisitely beautiful, and the boisterous "Money."

As accompanist Miss Beatrice Hicks excelled herself, playing with consummate artistry, particularly in the first and second groups.

Strong criticism of the Saanich School Board in exceeding the estimates given by the by-laws for new high schools was voiced at a well-attended meeting of the Ward Four, Saanich, ratepayers last night, under the supervision of William Manson, superintendent of welfare.

The scheme was put into practice in British Columbia about ten years ago, and this year, it is estimated, $800,000 will be distributed in benefits.

SESSION OF HOUSE ENDS

"I have been following with interest and sympathy the resumed deliberations of the Round Table Conference. I trust that joint endeavor may produce an agreement on a plan which will commend itself to the judgment of wise statesmanship."

"In the last few weeks my people have been called upon to face a financial and economic crisis which continues to give cause for anxiety. Measures taken by ministers, with the support of Parliament, to meet the emergency involve sacrifices from every member of the community. I am confident that as former occasions in the history of the country, every citizen will co-operate to the utmost of his power in restoring prosperity to the nation."

"My act has been passed to amend the law relating to the gold standard."

"My assent also has been given to a measure to insure the public against exploitation in regard to the supply or the price of certain articles of general consumption."

"In bidding you farewell, I earnestly commend you to the merciful protection and guidance of Almighty God."

INVESTIGATING PENSIONS PLAN

Canadian Welfare Worker Is Making Survey of Mothers' Pensions

Operation of the Mothers' Pension scheme in British Columbia is now being investigated for the British Columbia Government by Miss Charlotte Whitton, well-known Canadian welfare worker. It was stated yesterday by Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary.

Miss Whitton has carried out similar surveys in other Canadian provinces, and through long association with the Canadian Council on Child and Family Welfare has a unique knowledge of the operation of similar schemes in Canada.

After a thorough review of all phases of the pensions plan in this province, Miss Whitton will report to the Government any recommendations the survey may suggest. The move, it was explained, is part of the general policy of the Government to consolidate all welfare work under one department for administration.

The Mothers' Pension plan was transferred this year to the Department of the Provincial Secretary, under the supervision of William Manson, superintendent of welfare.

The scheme was put into practice in British Columbia about ten years ago, and this year, it is estimated, $800,000 will be distributed in benefits.

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Many Attend Distribution of Prizes Ceremony at University School

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the school, conjointly with the distribution of prizes, was celebrated at the University School yesterday. Very Rev. C. S. Quinlan presented the prizes. A number of parents of the boys attended the ceremony.

The headmaster, J. Ian Sisson, M.A., in introducing the Deans, paid a tribute to the foresight of the three founders, Rev. W. W. Bolton, J. C. Barnacle and Captain R. V. Harvie who, in the year 1906, united their respective schools and founded a school which two years later was transferred to the present premises at Mount Tolmie. Thus, he pointed out, did a small beginning have widespread consequences, as may be seen from the athletic and academic achievements of the boys who have passed through the school since those days.

FUNCTION OF SCHOOL

The major function of the school then, as now, is the building of character, but apart from that, important consideration, the academic results challenge comparison with those of any similar institution, notwithstanding the peculiar difficulties attendant upon the admission of boys from different parts of Canada and the United States, and of varying standards, ages and intellectual capacities.

Last Summer all provincial grades of high school work were taken up to and including first year university. Of 118 examination papers written, 544 of the candidates from University School secured over 50 per cent, while 117 secured over 75 per cent. Seventeen candidates passed their junior matriculation, while two passed their senior matriculation. Of this number one had gone to McGill, two to Royal Military College, one to the University of British Columbia, and one to Victoria College, while no fewer than fifteen had returned to take the first year university course offered at the school.

The boys were fortunate, the headmaster considered, to belong to a school with fine traditions which of varying examples, an honor roll of 282 names of boys and masters who fought in the Great War, sixty of whom never returned. Of this number 20 less than nine masters lost their lives in the service of their country.

PRIZES DISTRIBUTED

The Dean then distributed the prizes, a list of which follows:

Everyone knows these—

but how many can tell the difference between Coffees?

THE Spanish Onion—extra large, sweet, crisp and juicy... The Red Onion—especially good for seasoning... The Small White Silver Skin, so delicious for cooking... What housewife doesn't know these?

But to know good coffee is not so easy... except to the coffee expert. Without the slightest hesitation the expert can tell you whether coffee is "hard"... "soft"... or "mild." And all the subtle differences in flavor that depend on climate and season... these are as simple for him as onions are for you.

Chase & Sanborn experts select only the highest grades of soft and mild coffees from the world's choicest and costliest beans. Their skill in selecting, blending and roasting has made this coffee Canada's favorite for 50 years.

Chase & Sanborn's has always been roasted and packed right here in Canada! It goes to your grocer by the same delivery system that brings him fresh Fleischmann's Yeast twice each week.

Of course, we pack this marvelous coffee in a vacuum tin to keep it fresh until it reaches you... In 1 lb. and 1/2 lb. tins.

Ask for Chase & Sanborn's at your grocer's. Enjoy its rich, full-bodied flavor... its tempting aroma.

Do you know that coffees are graded for quality as "hard"—"soft" and "mild"? HARD coffee has a rank, strong flavor, and is a cheap, inferior quality... SOFT coffee has a mild, mellow flavor, the best grade is unusually good quality... Strangely enough, MILD coffee has a rich flavor.

Happy Jack's Ground Loving Cousin

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS

In how to live it seems to be as well we often disagree.

—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy, Flip the Terrier and Cousin Tom, in whose airplane they had made the long journey across the country, were at last in California, the land of sunshine, roses and oranges, not to mention other things. It was Flip who first made the acquaintance of one of the little California people and at first mistook him for an old acquaintance back home in the East.

Flip was out early the morning after their arrival eager to see who and what he could find of interest to an inquisitive small dog with a lot of energy to work off. Almost at once he discovered a small person sitting up watching him. Flip paused and looked hard at this little stranger. Instantly he thought of Happy Jack the Grey Squirrel. Many, many times had he chased Happy Jack, but always Happy Jack had run up a tree and from the safety of its branches made fun of Flip and called him names. Each time Flip had resolved that some day he would get even. Now he didn't stop to think that he was far from home.

"As I live it is that fellow," thought he, "and this time I'll get him. There isn't a tree near enough for him to reach before I can catch him. He'll never make fun of me again."

With an eager yelp Flip started for that squirrel and it seemed as if his feet hardly touched the ground. The squirrel started, too, and he ran just as Happy Jack runs, bounding along, his big tail slightly lifted. Flip didn't notice that that tail was not quite so broad as Happy Jack's and he didn't notice that it wasn't the beautiful silvery grey of the latter's, but was a yellowish grey. He didn't notice that the coat of this

Almost at once he discovered a small person, sitting up watching him.

Squirrel was a mixture of grey and light brown and darker tones, giving it almost a spotted appearance. He was too excited and in too much of a hurry to notice such matters. Here was a fellow about Happy Jack's size with a bushy tail, and in general looking like Happy Jack, and there wasn't a tree near enough for him to climb. He didn't even notice that this fellow didn't appear badly frightened and wasn't hurrying away from him.

"I'll get him this time," thought Flip. "He hasn't a chance in the world to get away from me this time."

The squirrel disappeared around a big stone and two seconds later Flip dashed around it expecting to see his would-be victim just a little way ahead. He was running so fast that he was well past the big stone before it dawned on him that he was chasing nothing, just nothing at all. There was no squirrel in sight. Flip put the brakes on and stopped as quickly as he could. Such a funny look as there was on his face. That fellow had vanished, vanished completely.

Flip whirled to look behind him. He jumped up to look over the grass better. He decided that the fellow must have dodged around the big stone and probably was hiding on the other side. Back he raced and around the big stone. No squirrel. He stood up with his paws on the stone to look over it.

He yelped with disappointment and chagrin. He had been so sure of that squirrel that even now he couldn't believe that he had escaped. It just didn't seem possible.

At last he quieted down enough to get right down to business to find out what had become of that fellow. He went slowly around that big stone, sniffing and looking for a hiding-place under the edge of it. And so at length he came to a hole, a hole that led right down under that big stone. One sniff told him that this was where that squirrel had gone. Flip tried to dig down, but soon gave it up as a bad job. He backed off and stared at that hole hopelessly.

"This is the first time I ever knew Happy Jack to go into a hole in the ground," he muttered. But this was Flip's mistake. It wasn't Happy Jack the Grey Squirrel at all. It was Twitchtail, the California Ground Squirrel who had so completely fooled him.

The next story: "The Twitchtails Live High."

Floods have caused food shortages in parts of Burma.

STOPS COMPANY LOGGING RIVER

Temporary Injunction Is Granted to Vancouver Island Power Company—Danger of Flooding

An action has been commenced in the Supreme Court here by the Vancouver Island Power Company against the Island Logging Company, Limited, for an injunction to restrain the logging company from placing, storing, or booming logs in the Jordan River and the estuaries thereof in such a manner as to impede the flow of water into the sea, or in such a manner as to impede the flow of water from the power company's plant into the Jordan River so as to endanger the flooding of the power house.

A temporary injunction was granted to the power company by Mr. Justice Murphy until Friday morning, when the case will be argued. Helstern & Tait are solicitors for the power company.

The Vancouver Island Power Company, in its statement, sets out that the company supplies approximately 41,750 horsepower to the B.C. Electric Railway Company, and that there is grave danger, from the improper logging on the Jordan River, of injury being done to the company's power plant. The generating pits at the power house are only 1.4 feet above high water mark from which the water flows from the turbines to the tall race. The company claims that if the water is raised above the level of the generating pits it will endanger the plant and mean great damage to the generators, besides depriving the city of Victoria of lighting and many industries from obtaining power.

CENSORED PLAY IS "BORING" TO CRITICS

LONDON, Oct. 7 (CP).—Oscar Wilde's play, "Salome," received its first public performance at the Savoy Monday night after being banned by the censor for forty years. Apparently it is just forty years too late, for there are no expressions of anything shocking about it. Professional critics indeed vote the play "boring." Wilde, however, wrote the play without any idea of its being startling.

The chief honors are awarded to Bert Farnham as Herod, while Joan Maude makes a strenuous effort to make Salome a thrilling character.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

TELLS OF SHOWS IN OLD COUNTRY

Dr. C. T. Hilton, of Port Alberni, Addresses Members of Victoria Horticultural Society

Impressions of recent flower shows in England were given members of the Victoria Horticultural Society at their meeting on Tuesday, by Dr. C. T. Hilton, of Port Alberni. Dr. Hilton returned from the Old Country about a month ago and during his stay there visited many of the leading flower shows, including the Chelsea Flower Show and that of the Royal Horticultural Society in London.

A lengthy list of new flowers, which he saw at these shows, was read by Dr. Hilton, who stated that, with the exception of the display of delphiniums, put on by the firm of Blackburn & Langhorn, exhibits equally as good as those seen, could be put on by W. J. Sheppard, of the local society, and some of the other members.

While in London, Dr. Hilton received the highest award of merit given by the Royal Horticultural Society for seedling daffodils.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by E. M. Whyte.

During the evening Dr. A. G. Price, president, presented the awards won in the C. F. Todd garden competition and those for the monthly competitions, held at the meetings. The winners of the latter competition were:

Chrysanthemums—1. A. M. Scott; 2. A. McKay.

Carrots—1. W. R. Nicholls; 2. George Little.

Dr. Price also thanked the ladies of the organization who were responsible for the success of the society's social evening held recently.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 8 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 1:10 p.m. and from 5:15 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. The danger hours are from 2:30 p.m. to 4:05 p.m., and from 9:50 p.m. to 11 p.m.

The planetary aspects of October 8 favor business, but are inimical to social interests. Many opportunities for development and advancement, along commercial lines, will present themselves, and, if seized, will lead to ultimate success.

Minor worries in domestic circles will breed individual pessimism, and create a frame of mind opposed to geniality or romance.

Children born on this October 8 will have retentive memories and good minds for details. Even in their very early years, they will show unmistakable evidence of neatness and tidiness. They will be amiable, magnetic and intuitive and have hosts of friends, and be happy themselves, as well as promote harmony all around them.

Born on October 8, you are far-seeing and practical. The signs indicate that a business career is the one in which you will shine and succeed. This applied equally to men and women. The latter will show little desire for domestic cares, and, whilst fond of the comforts of a good home, they are not equipped either to plan or run it. In order to bring out the best that lies in them, October 8 subjects, they must be in continual touch with the whirl of affairs, and will show great aptitude in out-thinking others. Drudgery and routine—with all its attendant monotony—will only provoke stagnation. You are independent and original. You chafe under guidance and resent interference. You, of course, are not inflexible. You have made, and will continue to make, "mistakes." The bull's eye, however, outnumber them, and these have all been made when you have been free to choose your own rifle. You are destined to travel a great deal during your lifetime. You are attracted by, and attracted to, the opposite sex, as there is a magnetism about you which invites confidence, esteem and admiration. You should not marry until your position is assured, as you could not tolerate the atmosphere generally engendered by any degree of privation.
